CERTIFICATE COURSE ON SPACE LAWS: POLICIES AND PRACTICE (Hybrid Mode)

Space has emerged both as an arena of intensifying inter-state competition and as a domain where private establishments play an increasingly important role in shaping conflict dynamics and outcomes. At the same time, the increasing reliance on interconnected space-based systems and infrastructure has introduced new vulnerabilities that can be exploited to disrupt. In addition to providing background information on Outer Space, this course is intended to enhance knowledge of students in space law treaties, soft law instruments, and national legislation. Today, space assets are considered important to national security. The states are developing anti-satellite weapons and other space-based weapons to help secure their interests.

Considering the importance of the area, the Indian Society of International Law is Conducting a Three Months Certificate Course on Space Laws: Policies and Practice (Hybrid Mode). The course will be conducted on Saturdays only commencing from 12 July 2025 (9:30 AM to 1:30 PM)
