ISIL 16th Winter Course on
United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, Naval Warfare and International Straits
04- January-08 January 2027
(ONLINE)

The Indian Society of International Law (ISIL) was founded in 1959 with the objective to "foster nationwide the study and development of International Law and to encourage the comparative study of the application of International Law in other States". The ISIL has been publishing the Indian Journal of International Law since its inception, which has attained a high standard and is held in high esteem the world over. The ISIL has also a good library, which is used by scholars from all over India. It organizes annual conferences and seminars on international issues of contemporary interest. Finally, and equally important it conducts and promotes independent research on issues of international Law. The teaching wing of the ISIL- the Indian Academy of International Law & Diplomacy, runs post-graduate diploma courses in various branches of international law.

Since 2001, the ISIL has been organizing a Summer Course in international law that aims to bring current developments and practice in international law to interested participants.

From academic year 2010, the ISIL organizes a one-week winter course every year on specific areas of international law viz., in 2010, the First Winter Course on International Environmental Law, Second to Fifteenth Winter Course held on topics: International Trade Law, International Private Law; Trade and Investment Law; International Taxation Laws; Settlement of Dispute under Law, International Maritime Law, International Migration and Refugee Law, International Law and National Security, Air and Space Law, Law of International Institutions, Health Law, Cyber Laws, Alternative Dispute Resolution: Harmonizing International and National Practices and Debating International Environmental Law in the 21st Century.

We are pleased to announce the ISIL 16th Winter Course on "United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea, Naval Warfare and International Straits" will commence from Monday, 04 January 2027 to Friday, 08 January 2027.

The Society will endeavour to make available the best expertise available in the respective fields as course instructors, including noted academicians, governmental, non-governmental and UN officials etc.
